

Message from the University President

2022 is a good year. It is with full hearts that we count our blessings and be truly grateful for a very fruitful 2022. The year 2022 has brought us many reasons to celebrate - our board toppers, board and bar passers, student achievers, accreditation successes, community and research works, our employee engagements, and so many more.

To cap off the year, I would like to share with all of you a lot of good news and milestones. As we envisioned to become an internationally future-ready university, UNC is now a proud Associate Member of the ASEAN University Network. Charting our achievements in the the Philippine Association of Colleges and Universities Commission on Accreditation, Inc., we have been awarded as Top School in Bicol for having the most number of accredited programs in the higher education institution. As UNC's love to serve continues to expand opportunities to our partner communities in the Bicol region, we were also awarded 3rd out of the 18 participants nationwide in the Best Practices in Community Extension/ Outreach Program by PACUCOA.

These successes would not have been possible without the concerted efforts of each and every member of the UNC community. Thank you everyone for your sustained active engagement which made the 2022 Achievements so laudable. I am sure, 2023 will also be as remarkable if not better as you all endeavor to contribute towards UNC's vision, mission as well as our institutional quality policy. We shall continue to thrive as we journey towards becoming the #1 university in the Bicol region.
